MISS MAY BRINTON

Miss Brinton is the daughter of Binney Brinton, of Overbrook. She is a debutante of the season.

THE mercury of the social thermometer is still quite high, in spite of the terrific rush of debuts, charities, Christmas and New Year's. The most important affair to be given tonight will be a large dance by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, of 2104 Walnut street, in the Rose Garden of the Bellevue-Stratford in honor of their daughter, Miss Cordelia Biddle. This will be one of the largest affairs that has been given for Miss Biddle, who has been much feted this season. The ballroom will be simply but effectively decorated, and Miss Biddle, following her usual bent, will be crowned in white and will carry rosebuds. Most of the season's debutantes and younger dancing men will be among those present, as well as members of the older set.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Savage, of 1211 Spruce street, will entertain at dinner at the Ritz-Carlton in honor of Miss Marion E. Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Savage, before the ball. Covers will be laid for 24, and the floral decoration will be pink roses and white lilacs.

NORTH-SHELL

A wedding of interest will take place this evening in the First Presbyterian Church, when Miss Dorothea Schell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Hampton Schell, will become the bride of Alfred Moorhead North. The bride will be given in marriage by her father, and the ceremony will be performed by the Rev. William Beatty Jennings, pastor of the church. The bride will wear a gown of ivory-white satin, draped with tulle and lace, and made in Egyptian fashion, with a deep girdle of pearls. She will carry a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor, Mrs. Will Curtis Nesbitt, of Wilmington, a cousin of the bride, will wear pale blue chamois, draped with gold lace ruffles over a foundation of bronze net. She will carry a bouquet of autumn roses and white lilies. Gold slippers and stockings will complete this dainty toilette. The maid of honor will be Miss Margaret Emille Moffit, and the bridesmaids will include Miss Gertrude King, Miss Gladys Edwards, Miss Madeline Hensel. They will wear gowns alike, of rose-pink satin, made in similar style to that of the matron of honor, and will carry arm bouquets of Killarney roses, pink anemones and white lilies. The best man will be Frederick B. Swopes, and the ushers will include Oswald Hampton Schell, Jr., a brother of the bride; Edward A. Waters, E. Stanley Richardson, Charles Alexander, Albert Maurice Hoyt, the Rev. Theron Lee, Harold B. Nason, Wheeler Lord.

A small reception for the two families will immediately follow the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 422 West Schoolhouse lane. Mr. and Mrs. North will be at home after March 1, at 117 West Chelton avenue.
